

A large writing area consisting of 15 horizontal lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across most of the page width. The top line is slightly shorter than the others, ending at the right edge of the broom's head.

